Docket # OSHA 2007-0032

June 27, 2007

I am writing to express my opposition to a proposed OSHA regulation that would in all likelihood stop carriers like UPS and FedEx from delivering black powder to legal residents of this country who enjoy the sport of black powder shooting.

The law of unintended (?) consequences is about to rear its ugly head with this regulation and it should require further review and retraction. I am well aware that we all are concerned about the dangers in this new world, but this will not prevent any act of terrorism. It will only make life very difficult for the weekend black powder shooter participating in a wholesome family recreational event.

Thank you,
