

415514

Your Propane Connection

06 SEP 25 AM 11:19

DEPT OF TRANSPORTATION

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

PHMSA-2006-25589-227

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Darlene Barnett".

Darlene Barnett

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Sandra Boyd".

Sandra Boyd

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "F. C. Edwards Jr.", written over a horizontal line.

Frank C. Edwards Jr..

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Sari Elsworth".

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nesbitt Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-26588 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-26588 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

MATT FRANCIS

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads 'George Kennell'.

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Bonnie Lierenz".

Bonnie Lierenz

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "John Marcum".

John Marcum

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nesbitt Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely, Joseph B. Massey

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25689 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25689 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Kenneth Munns".

Kenneth Munns

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Anastacia Pressly".

Anastacia Pressly

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Anna Reep".

Anna Reep

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Daniel Robertson". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long, sweeping underline.

Daniel Robertson

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads 'Heather Robson'.

Heather Robson

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25689 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "John Sharp".

John Sharp

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Tim Starr".

Timothy Starr

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Charlotte Chapman", is written over a horizontal line.

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Michelle Tansey", written over a large, stylized circular flourish.

Michelle Tansey

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

Nathan Tansey

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-206F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-206F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

William Tate

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

Michele Thomas

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

Larry Watts

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Monty W. Lee".

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "R. P. ...".

9-25-2006

Your Propane Connection

Docket Management System
U.S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street SW
Nassif Building
Room PL-401
Washington, D.C. 20590-001

As an Employee-Owner of Ferrellgas, the nation's second largest propane company, I wanted to make you aware of a proposed regulation that would negatively affect my company and my industry.

I am concerned that the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]) will burden my company with additional costs without having any real impact on safety for handlers or customers.

Ferrellgas already goes to great lengths and expense in order to ensure that we meet or exceed the highest standards of safety for both our Employees and Customers. It is a part of everything we do as a company. Before delivering propane, our Employees must undergo industry-leading classroom and hands-on training to ensure that they are not only safe, but able to teach our Customers how to be safe as well. We do this not because of a government mandate, but simply because it is good business.

As a whole, our industry has invested millions of dollars over the last decade to develop a number of programs designed to improve the safety of our workers and our customers. Forcing the industry to pay twice by sending millions of dollars more to DOT only penalizes our safety efforts and our business.

The industry has sent tens of thousands of copies of detailed emergency-response materials to every professional and volunteer fire department in the nation. We hold train-the-trainer sessions. We have developed an excellent safety-related Web site, www.propanesafety.com. It would be unfortunate for our industry and for Ferrellgas to see these efforts ignored in favor of higher fees.

I urge you to re-examine the programs and fees that are already in place and to recognize that companies like Ferrellgas are constantly on the forefront of improving safety practices. To burden these leaders with millions of dollars in additional cost would serve only to hinder additional progress.

On behalf of the nearly 4,500 Employee-Owners of Ferrellgas, I ask you to reject the Hazardous Materials Transportation; Registration and Fee Assessment Program (PHMSA Docket No. PHMSA-2006-25589 [HM-208F]).

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Christopher E. [unclear]".

