

We need to put more resources into alternative transportation (non-auto), particularly making roads bicycling friendly. Bicycling enhances our communities in so many important ways.