... and I strongly object to the recent policy statement from EPA on the pathogenicity of CO2 in current and predicted future atmospheric concentrations. I can provide reams of peer-reviewed, published scientific evidence supporting this assertion, but since no one there will bother to read it, I won't waste my time sending it.

If anyone there wants to read the science on CO2, you know how to reach me.

Until this policy is recinded, I will vote for politicians who will replace those who wrote it, and hope for the truth to win out.
